Social, Political, and Legal Environment of Food and Agribusiness Firms

In 2003 I introduced this course as a required course for students pursuing the Concentration in Food and Agribusiness Management. The focus of the course is on preparing students to monitor the rapidly changing external environment of the food industry.

Environment of the Commercial Food System: Food Safety, Consumer Issues, and Crisis Management

I developed this course to address important consumer-related food industry issues. Lecture material was supplemented with guest lectures by industry experts and students applied knowledge gained in the classroom by analyzing case studies.
