

1995-96 Philosophy Conference

Santa Clara University

The Philosophy of John Rawls

In Celebration of the 25th Anniversary of A Theory of Justice

Friday, Oct. 20, 1995: All sessions in the Mayer Theatre

Noon Registration

1 p.m. Bernard Williams (University of California-Berkeley/Oxford University)
"Justice as Fairness: Ethical Not Political"

2:15 p.m. Break

2:30 p.m. Michael Sandel (Harvard University)
"The Limits of Liberal Public Reason"

3:45 p.m. Break

4 p.m. Jürgen Habermas (University of Frankfurt/Northwestern University)
"The Public Use of Reason"

Saturday, Oct. 21, 1995: All sessions in the Mayer Theatre

8:30 a.m. Registration, coffee, and doughnuts

9 a.m. Thomas Nagel (New York University)
"The Idea of Fairness"

10:15 a.m. Break

10:30 a.m. Amy Gutmann (Princeton University)
"Rawlsian Justice and Deliberative Democracy"

11:45 p.m. Lunch break

2:30 p.m. Ronald Dworkin (New York University/Oxford University)
"Liberal Justice and Liberal Ethics"

3:45 p.m. Break

4 p.m. John Rawls (Harvard University)
"Relations Between A Theory of Justice and Political Liberalism
and Earlier and Later Pieces"

For further information, contact:

Christopher B. Kulp,
Department of Philosophy
Santa Clara University
Santa Clara, CA 95053
(408) 554-4093

Registration: $20. All students: free. SCU faculty and staff: free.