MANUFACTURED MOTHERHOOD: The Ethics of the New Reproductive Techniques

for a conference
at Santa Clara University
California
April 22-23, 1988

and for LOGOS
Volume 9
(1988)

Featured Speakers:

Albert Jonsen, University of Washington
Lisa Sowle Cahill, Boston College
Lori Andrews, American Bar Foundation

Papers are invited on the ethics of surrogate motherhood, in vitro fertilization, artificial insemination, and other new reproductive alternatives and techniques. Papers may be submitted either for the conference, or for LOGOS, or for both. (Please specify which when you submit your paper.) Papers for the conference should not exceed 15 pages or 30 minutes reading time; LOGOS papers may be longer. Santa Clara University will cover the cost of lodging, meals, and local transportation for persons whose papers are accepted for presentation.

Deadline for the receipt of papers:
January 15, 1988
