

Consider a Minor in Religious Studies

Tanya Schmidt '12
English

"I declared a RS minor because, though I did not have the time to do a double major, I still wanted to be a part of the community of Religious Studies students and faculty, a group with whom I may engage both in lighthearted laughter and in deep conversation about what matters most in life."

Tora Troop '12
Sociology

"Religion plays such a prominent role in our society, I quickly realized adding a Religious Studies minor would greatly benefit my studies as Sociology major. It helps me build a more complete understanding of the world we live in."

"At the end of my junior year I realized that my interest in Religious Studies had only increased. I sat down and spoke with my advisor, and I was able to make a plan for my senior year that included an RS minor."

History

"Understanding the impact of religion on both social and political levels is very important. Being a Religious Studies minor has given me critical knowledge to supplement my major courses and deepen my own understanding of religion."

Did you know?

Adding a Religious Studies minor only takes four extra classes beyond your core requirements.

Minors also have access to small, stimulating seminars.

Minors enjoy preregistration privileges every quarter.
