Most classes may be added via Ecampus through the last day of the Late Registration period. Some classes require special permission before they can be added.

Special Permission/Restrictions:

If a class is filled to capacity, you may seek the instructor's permission to add it. The instructor will give you a unique, section-specific permission number that will override class capacity. Use the permission number to add the class through Ecampus during the first week of the term. If the permission number the instructor provided does not work, submit this Add Form with the permission number to the Graduate Services Office no later than the last day to add a class.

Some classes require special permission to enroll and may be added only with the instructor's signature on this form no later than the last day to add a class.

Time Conflict:

To add a section which has a time conflict with another section, list the information for both classes, including the time conflict, obtain the signature of both instructors on this form and submit it to the Graduate Services Office on or before the last day to add a class.
