Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Faculty Core Committee on Science, Technology, and Society, I am pleased to forward the attached document inviting and encouraging faculty from across the University to submit proposals to develop STS courses for the new Core. Broad interdisciplinarity is encouraged. The FCC for STS welcomes participation from faculty in the natural and social sciences, humanities, engineering, and business.

Additional reminders:

Proposals for honoraria for Curriculum Transformation and Development are January 14, March 14, and May 14. For general guidelines please see http://www.scu.edu/core2009/grants_workshops.cfm

For guidelines specific to the Cultures and Ideas 1 & 2 sequence, please see: http://www.scu.edu/core2009/meeting-minutes.cfm ("Draft Guidelines for Cultures and Ideas Honoraria Proposals 12.19.07")

We also invite your participation in Summer Curriculum Development Workshops in support of the new Core. Faculty applying for honoraria are also eligible to apply for workshops. Descriptions of workshops and application guidelines are posted at the following site: http://www.scu.edu/core2009/grants_workshops.cfm ("Workshop descriptions and application requirements")

Sincerely,

Diane Jonte-Pace
