Reading the Bible After the Shoah: The Scroll of Esther through the Eyes of a Survivor of the Holocaust and Her Faith Community

The JST class entitled "Biblical Spiritualities of Suffering" invites all GTU/JST students to join for two sessions, examining the scroll of Esther through the eyes of a survivor of the Holocaust and her faith community. The class has the privilege of learning from Misia Nudler, a Jewish woman born and raised in Poland who, against all odds, managed to escape the ghetto which fed into the Dachau Concentration Camp and to survive on the run with her teenage sister for the entirety of the war. All are welcome for the following two sessions:

Rabbi Bloom, "Reading the Scroll of Esther with Survivors" - Thursday, October 19 | 11:00am-12:30pm | PSR 6

Misia Nudler's Story and Q and A - Monday, October 30 | 11:00am-12:30pm | PSR 6

Saying Yes & Saying No

Starr King School for the Ministry and the Unitarian Universalist College of Social Justice present this workshop with the Rev. Kathleen McTigue, a SKSM graduate and Executive Director of the UU College of Social Justice. While it is easy to feel overwhelmed by the injustices of the world around us, this workshop will introduce a discernment process based on contemplative practice as a way to listen for where you feel most called to say "yes" and empower that affirmation by how we say "no". If you would like to begin with pizza, please RSVP to communications@sksm.edu.

Monday, October 16 | 5:15pm-6:00pm, pizza, 6:00-8:00pm, workshop | Starr King School for the Ministry
