The Myth of Moral Bio-Enhancement: An Evolutionary Anthropology and Theological Critique

Dr. Celia Deane-Drummond, Professor of Theology and founding Director of the Center for Theology, Science and Human Flourishing at the University of Notre Dame, will explore arguments in favor of moral bioenhancement and argue that a classical Christian account of virtue implies that moral bioenhancement is a myth.

Tuesday, April 25 | 6:45PM | Manresa Lounge

JST EVENTS

Women Responding to the Call to Ministry in the Church

The third and final panel in the series, The Papal Commission on Women Deacons, sponsored by the GTU Women's Studies in Religion Program, will feature current and former JST/GTU students who have experienced a call to ministry, and in the context of male-only ordained ministry in the Catholic Church, have sought to exercise their ministry in various ways. These pathways reflect the real-life decisions of Catholic Women.

Moderated by Luke Hansen, SJ.

Tuesday, May 2 | 7:00-8:15, reception to follow | Gesù Chapel

Contextual Theology, Mission & Prophetic Dialogue

This lecture will reflect on the mutual relationship between doing contextual theology and prophetic dialogue.

Dr. Steve Bevans, SVD, will present, and respond to a panel including Ms. Su-Chi Lin (Taiwan, GTU Ph.D. student), Sr. Rosalia Meza, VDMF (Mexico and USA, JST STD Student), and Dr. Bienvenu Mayemba, SJ (Abidjan, République de Côte d'Ivoire, JST Visiting Professor).

From Empathy to the Evolution of Compassion

Professor Deane Drummond, Professor of Theology and Director of the Center for Theology at the University of Notre Dame, explores recent analysis of the deep history of the evolution of compassion in early hominins, in dialogue with philosopher Martha Nussbaum. She argues for the importance of charity, understood in the classic, Thomistic sense, as holding a central place for mercy and its relationship with superabundant compassion.

Wednesday, April 26 | 7:00pm | Dinner Board Room, GTU Library

COMMUNITY EVENTS

Jesuit Connections Bay Area

This Sunday, Catholic Young Adults who have been shaped by the Society of Jesus will meet for Mass, Lunch, a Talk, and Social. The speaker, David Romero S.J., has served among the poorest of the world and now teaches at Bellarmine College Prep. He will focus on Ignatian discernment, helping us notice God's presence in our prayer and in our daily experiences, with the goal of responding generously to that presence with how we live. The event and lunch are free!
