REMINDER: EARLY REGISTRATION FOR INTERSESSION AND SPRING 2017

Early registration for both the Intercession and Spring Semester 2017 begins next Monday, November 7th. After meeting with your advisor to plan your courses, your advisor will release the "hold" on your registration. You can then register for courses through WebAdvisor. If you want to register for a course with a restriction, first email the instructor for permission to be admitted. After the instructor notifies you that you are "admitted" to the course, you will need to register for the course on WebAdvisor.

Please note: When registering on WebAdvisor (under "Student Planning") be sure to choose the section (even if there is only one being offered) for each course you want. When you are finished choosing your courses, they should appear in the color green on your schedule. If they appear as gray or yellow, then you haven't yet completed your registration.

Newhall Applications Due Friday, November 11, 2016

Newhall Awards are competitive awards for GTU doctoral students engaged in collaborative teaching or research with faculty mentors in the belief that such collaborative work would contribute to the professional development of the students and the mission of the GTU.

The Newhall Award Application form is available on the GTU webpage.

Complete applications are due in the GTU Dean's Office by 5pm Friday, November 11; these must come from the student and the professor for a project involving both.
