

FINANCE

Perform risk management for an emerging company, or investment banking for an established one.

A degree in finance preps you for both, and more. And if you want to apply the skills you learn in an internship, you can take advantage of our extensive network in and around the Valley. Your understanding of finance is central to your success in business - and in managing your own assets. Whether you plan to work in corporate finance or venture finance, lead an investment group, manage complex portfolios for your organization, work at a trading desk, or make strategic decisions about risk management, our program gives you a thorough understanding of the issues.

FACULTY RESEARCH

All finance faculty members have published in top journals in finance, accounting, economics, and management, and are widely cited for their contributions to new knowledge. In fact, the field of behavioral finance was born in this department, pioneered by professors Hersh Shefrin and Meir Statman. Our scholars are internationally recognized and awarded for their research, and consult frequently with major corporations around the world, providing their students with insight into how business is practiced internationally. Interdisciplinary research is a cornerstone of the University environment and consequently, faculty in Finance have also published in journals and worked with academics in other fields such as accounting, business ethics, economics, law, management, marketing, computer science, and psychology. As a result, our course offerings are state-of-the-art, and conversant with current practice in industry around the world.

ALUMNI IN FINANCE

Santa Clara's finance alumni are found in myriad leadership roles around the world, and have had significant influence on the tech industry. Finance graduates have led finance and treasury operations in such well-known technology giants such as Apple, Dolby, Google, Go-Pro, Hewlett Packard, and LinkedIn. Our alumni also are active in start-ups and small and mid-sized regional firms, as well as in serving governmental agencies at local, state and federal levels (including leading the Congressional Budget Office.) In addition, some alumni have pursued scholarly careers, earning doctorates in finance and teaching at the university level, while consulting frequently with financial institutions and investment firms.
