

BUSINESS CASUAL for men

Stick to dress pants, button-down shirts, black or brown leather shoes, and a matching belt. This will ensure a polished, professional, business-casual ensemble.

Remember, no denim!

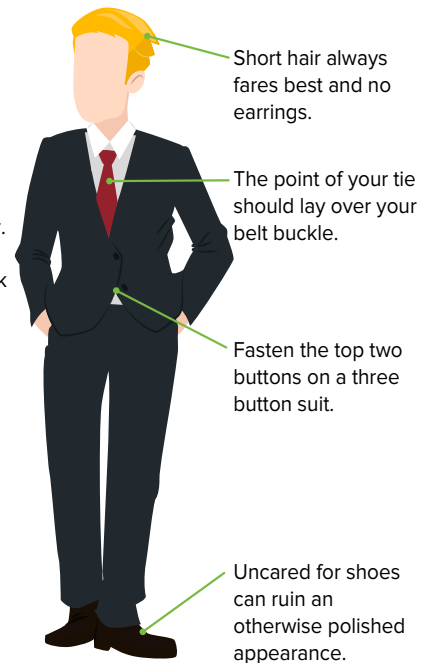

Find a full-length mirror to appraise your final look.

PROFESSIONAL ATTIRE for men

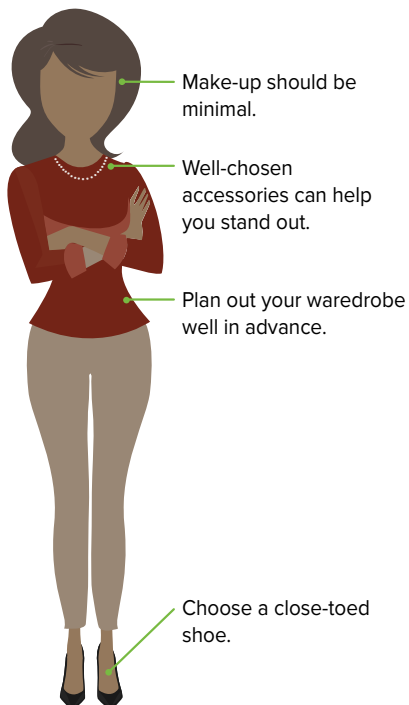

Don't let an ill-fitting suit send the wrong message. Find yourself a good tailor. The right one can make a $100 suit look like a million bucks.

BUSINESS CASUAL for women

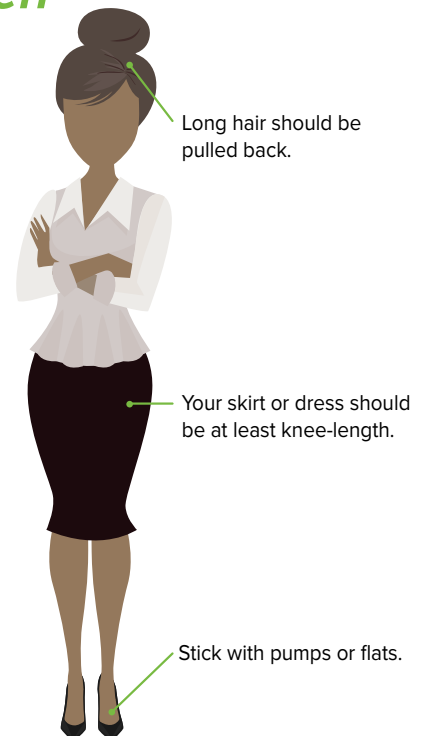

Unsure whether your outfit is indeed "business casual"? When in doubt, it's always best to stay on the conservative side.

PROFESSIONAL ATTIRE for women

To see if your skirt or dress is an appropriate length, sit down in front of a mirror. It should fall no more than 2 inches above the knee. And remember, what you see is what they see.

Make sure you're comfortable in your clothes. Wear the suit and break your shoes around the house.
