As the university operates through the continuing COVID-19 pandemic, local and state conditions continue to change and evolve. In response to those changes, the university protocols which are put in place to ensure that the community is safe, will continue to shift and change. Protocols in residence halls that might be impacted include (but are not limited to) allowing guests in the halls, use of common spaces, masking requirements, isolation and quarantine, and penalties related to biohazard violations. Any changes to protocols will be communicated via email to Student’s scu.edu email account and via residence life and housing staff. Student is responsible for knowing and complying with the protocols at all times. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary action and possible termination of the UHC.

The safety and well-being of the SCU Bronco community is of utmost importance.
